

Did you know?

- The words “in Ephesus” are missing in some earlier manuscripts, prompting some to speculate that this is the letter from Laodicea mentioned in Colossians 4:16.
- Ephesians 1 is composed of four sentences in the original Greek – two in the first two verses, and just two more in the whole rest of the chapter.
- The phrase “eyes of your heart” in verse 18 is translated “eyes of your understanding” in the King James Version, one of few instances where the KJV is less literal than more modern translations.
