4. Potential dangers
 - a. Focus on natural talent (such as music, public speaking) rather than spiritual gift or other things the Lord wants you to do.
 - b. Focus on perceived gift to the exclusion of other forms of service.

- 6 The Holy Spirit reveals God's will primarily by the Scriptures (1 Thess. 4:3), but also by impressions (Psa. 32:8), and by counsel (Prov. 11:14).

I. Areas of "Secular" Training That May Help Us in Serving the Lord

1. High School: Be well-rounded, do well in all your classes, especially English, world history, foreign languages, speech, piano/guitar, learning to read music.
2. College or Correspondence Courses: History of Bible times, Biblical Greek and Hebrew.
3. Learn to follow the rules and submit to authority at home, school, work, on the ball field, and behind the steering wheel.
4. Find a spouse who is also interested in serving the Lord and living for Him.
5. Throw out (or greatly limit) TV, videos, computer games, texting, twitter, and other distractions from serving the Lord.

J. Summary

1. STOP what you are doing right now and ask whether it is what the Lord wants you to be doing.
2. LOOK around you and notice those who need help (with homework, housework, food, clothing, finances, encouragement, and salvation).
3. Pull out the ear buds and LISTEN to what the Lord is trying to tell you and for faint cries for help from people who are too shy and embarrassed to shout for help.
